BANDMANN OPERA CO.

The popular musical play, "The Balkan Princess," was the attraction at the Theatre Royal last night, and once again, in spite of the hot weather, there was a large and enthusiatic andience. The piece was well put on, the dresses being smart and the scenery most effective. All the members of the Company threw themselves heart and soul into the piece, with the result that the acting was tip-top, the music entrancing and the humour overflowing. Of course, Miss Madge Vincent was charming in the role of the Princess Stephanic, while good work was also done by Miss Dorothes Temple, Miss Lily Drury and Miss Jennie Poole. In the respective parts of Biatz and Henry the waiter, Mr Bobby Roberts and Mr Alfred Frith kept the fun going fast and furious; both were at their very best and the house was in consequence kept in roars of laughter. Other parts taken with marked success were hose in the hands of Mr T. C. Maxwell, Mr James McGrath and Mr Henry Frankiss.

To-night "The Girl in the Train " is to be staged.

THE "EMPRESS OF CHINA."

Her Precarious Position.

Further details of the stranded Empress of China state that she lies on flat ledge in three fathoms of water and is bumping heavily in a seaway. The steering gear is completely disabled, and the cock by the ster. post lifted four inches. There are only two feet of water in No. 1 hold, but "19 in No. 2, and 13 in the reserve bunker. The after hold has ten feet of water but the remaining spaces are dry. Divors report several scame started and rivets broken and both propellers are jummed. Lloyd's agent telegraphs that the vessel will become a total wrebk in the event of bad weather setting in.

Two more airships are under construction for the army. There will shortly be launched the simbip Gamms. This is not a new yessel, but an old one reconstructed. and enlarged. Her capacity is 100,000 cubic feet, the is litted with two 50 h.p. engines and will carry half a dozen mon. She will be used for observation and experimental purposes. The Gamma is fitted with two four-bladed propellers which can be swivelled up and down to assist the ship in secending and descending.

And under his course of turtion nobody has the heart complain. Still her is not satisfied, and will not be suitisfied until he has done th ame for London, if London will let him. LOOKING FOR A SITE. "Yes, I intend building a hotel in London to be conducted on American lines, I find it feasible," said Mr Sterry to an interviewer. "I have a syndicate of New York financiers behind me and all the necessary capital ready, but I am not going. to do anything mah just to carry out an idea. It is purely a business proposition to make money. If we can secure a suitable site at a price that will warrant the investment the hotel will be built without delay. I have been looking at a property near Hyde Park Corner, but nothing definite has been settled as yet, and may not be until I return from Paris in a fortnight." . !! At the same time, you may be sure the hotel will be as large as we are allowed to make it. It is our intention to run the hotel on precisely the same lines on the Plaza in New York, and o cater chiefly, if not exclusively, for American patronage. There are always a sufficient number of wealthy Americans in London to keep such a hotel full all the time, and we mun to devote a large part of the hotel to handsome private apartments which can be rented by the year while the service will be as near perfection as we can make it. There will be French chals, waiters, and maids; American clork and heads of departments, and English attendants, while the cuisins will embrace. everything that can possibly appeal to the pampered American palate." FLEET REORGANISATION.

Important Changes to be Made Next Spring.

Important changes in the composition of the principal British fleets will come into operation early next year, -consequent chiefly upon the completion of the four contingent" armoured ships of stine 1909-10 programme—the battleships Conqueror, Thunderer, and Monarch and the battle-cruiser Princess Royal. When these vessels are completed twenty British Drawingoughts will be flying the compant. of which number fourteen will be battle, ships and six cruisers. The two active battle divisions of the Home Fleet consist of eight battleships each. The First Division already consists entirely of Dreadroughts but the Second Division is composed of the two Lord "Nelsons and six. King Edwards -Two resects of the latter type (the Africa and Commonwealth) have already been passed into the Reserve, and as new ships are completed they will join the Second Division, and thus bring about the transference of still more ships of this type to the Third, or Reserve. Division 1 Part of the The battleships which are to be complated by the early spring of 1912 are Hercules (to replace King Edward VH.

Colossus (to replace New Zealand), Orion (to replace Hibernia), Thunderer, Conqueror, and Monarch. It will be seen that the result will be to complete the transference of the whole eight ships of the King Edward class to the Reserve There is now, however, the highest authority for stating that the Admiralty is only waiting for the completion of the six new Dreadpoughts, and that when that ATATAAT O has been accomplished the whole eight cont to the Mediterranean, " " 1.

Our battle fleet in these waters consisted seven years ago of twelve battleships of the largest, latest, and most efficient then in existence. At the present moment, however, there are only six lattle-hips there, and all are of small displacement and are very weakly protected. The ships of the King Edward class were hunched between 1903 and 1905, they displace 16,350 tons eich, and are armed with furr 1.12in., four 9.2in., and ton Gin. guns The net result of the exchange would, therefore, be to increase the tonnage of the Meditorranean battle fleet from 79,785 tons to 13 ,800 tons; the King, Edwards have -9in, of side armour to the 7in/ of the ships now on the station; while the increase in gun power mould be from 28,000lbs. to 47,580 lbs. The name of Prince Louis of Batter berg has frequently been mentioned connection with the leditermnent comnand, and it is now fairly cortain that this Mane will succeed fir Edmund Por in Apr. next with the soting rang of fall samiral.

one characteristics of valious player: Personality in lawn tennis, as in nearly everything else, counts for much, and during the present week, when the championships will be played on the billiard-table courts of the All England Lawn Tennis Club at Wimbledon, the power of personallity will make itself felt by the number of the spectators who will crowd round the particular court in which the owner of the personality is disporting himself. . .

Though, unfortunately, he has retired from the game in the full plenitude of his powers, probably there never was a more virile lawn tennis personality than that of Frank L. Riseley, the famous Gloucestershire player.

Risoley and S. H. Smith were a remark-1099 | able doubles pair the one brimming over with exuberance and dash; the other phlegmatic and cutious, deggedly content THE Undersigned has received instruct to keep on returning the ball until his tions to Sell by Public Auction, epponent gave him the opportunity of putting in one of the "Smith" drives. which are famous the lawn tennis world

> And meanwhile, Riseley, a bundle of quivering nerves, would wait, impatiently, Suddenly he would hurl himself across the Court and bring off a "kill" which would electrify everybody.

A player of strongly-marked personality was Norman F. Brookes, of Australia, who won the championship in 1903. There was something almost repellent about Brookes' play. It was so horribly ruthless and so suggested an inexorable inevitableness that merely having to play against this dark, saturnine, smileless man mu have been a severe ordeal.

THE HOLDER.

. The holder of the championship, Anthony F. Wilding of New Zealand, post seeses a strange, buffling personality, which oddly contradicts the picture he presents of fresh; lis om athleticism. He seldom smiles, and his curiously long upper lip presses barder and harder as the game progrosses. It is when things are apparently going against him most that Wilding seen at his best.

A trim little man is the excholder, A. W Gore, with his carious, jerky walk. seems amazing that Core ever managed to win the championship twice. His only stroke is his drive, but he manages to get this in sufficiently often to prove too good for most of his opponents, yeterm though

Another of the veterans, who is generally there or thereabouts is the little solicitor. H. Roper Barrett. He has never quite attained the highest honours, though he is, undoubtedly, one of the most purely intellectual players of the game. Being a little man, inclined to be portly, he has few of the natural advantages. He relies almost entirely on placing the ball, and has never been known to hit it really hard. There is a cool and calculating subtlety behind Roper Barrett's play which often proves disastrous to far more dashing and omate players.

as if he would go on for ever. Never absolutely in the front rank, he is a very sound player. He comes on the courts with a peculiarly heavy and lifaless troad and seems tired out before he starts. When playing, however, he is as lightfooted as most of them.

NEVER RUPPLED.

Possibly one of the strongest personalities playing first class lawn tennis is C. P. Dixon, brother of J. A. Dixon, the famous Nottingham cricket captain. A large. placid person is Dixon, who never allows the most uptoward incident to disturb him. Even the most glaringly bad decision by the umpire leaves him-unruffled—be merely waves his racket in melancholy-wise, as though to say, "Why worry?" If Dixon troubled about such things as escutcheous, his would undoubtedly bear the motto ever smiling T. M. Mavro ordato. neatly-built little person is this, and whatever the state of the game, he keeps on at Wimbledon will be J. C. Parke, the says the Police Superintendent's report. famous Irish Juternational three-quarter back. Farke plays lawn-tennis like he played Rug' y. He is dashing all the time, and when in form is quite one of the hardest hitters living. A splendid type of portsman, he is quite one of the mes popular players of them all.

Probably the greatest stylist is A. E. Beamish. Anyone watching him play for the first time might well think he was a real champion. When on top of his game he is first class, and he is never anything the usual treatment by applying Chamberbut a pure delight to watch. But he also has just failed to realise expectations There is a fact of "doyff" in his play, I do by all Obenists and Store coper.

without which no one can hope to be a champion.

Then there are the immaculate Lowe brothers-sons of Sir Francis Lowe, M.P. When they camedown from their respective universities they were regarded as the hopes of the younger generation. They have done exceedingly well, but have not quite "made good" yet. Footwork in lawn-tennis counts for nearly as much as it does in the prize-ring, and by far the most skilful exponent of this side of the game is S. N. Doust, the Australian. To watch his twinkling little feet during a game is an education in itself. Doust is a better doubles player than a singles one.

Undoubtedly the quaintest of all lawntennis personalities is Dr. Enves. He is The Cheapest and Best place in Canton to quite a veteran new, but can still put up a gallant fight in doubles. His fierce little moustache, his characteristic little strut, and his obvious annoyance with himself when he misses a shot," are an unfailing source of delight to speciators.

France has made tremendous strides of late in the game. There seems to be something in lawn-tennis that suits the French temperament. Last year one, A. H. Gobert, got knocked out very early, but those who -watched him could only come to the conclusion that here certainly were the makings of a champion. Gobert is quite young. He is very tall, and has a tremendous reach. He may not win this year, though even that is possible, but if anything can be safely prophesied, it is that, with ordinary luck, it will not be very long before the championship boards in the pavilion at Wimbledon bear for the Like the brook, M. J. G. Ritchie seems first time on record the name of a French-

LORD KITCHEN B, DIRECTOR.

Question As To His Railway Appointment.

Sir W. Hart Dyke, speaking at the half yearly meeting of the London, Chatham, and Dover Railway Company, referred to the fact that Lord Kitchener had taken a place on the board, and to the appreciation which they fult that the services of a soldier of his distinction and administrative capacity had been given to the company.

It was obvious that, having accepted an important post in Egypt, it would be impossible for Lord Kitchener to occupy a sent on the joint management committee of the two companies (South-Eastern and Chatham and Dover) but as be was making his permanent residence in the county of Kent, and would be in England for several months, of the year for the next few years, A complete contrast to Dixon is the he (the chairman) hoped that Lord Kit-A chener would be able to act on the board.

-A regrettable feature of last month's criminal records at Shanghai was the One of the breeziest personalities playing increase of complaints against foreigners, No less than five separate cases occurred where foreigners were able to obtain credit (extensive credit in one instance) and leave Shanghai before stops could be taken against them. The generosity of local storekoopers is to blame for this, and it would seem as if the time had arrived when credit should be granted only to those who can give a satisfactory guarantee of good performances, and quite contribute our humble expen ive passion for diamonds and otor cars. So far there was not a rift in te late of barmony; and Johnson would escort to the liner Medina, on which the enign and profitable a condition of affairs. respects of further diamonds and the intor-cars tempted him to desert the mple habits of honest showmanship and llowed him to engage in an enterprise that an only be described as an offence against he name of sport. The cuterprise-one invitably uses the terms of commerce in lealing with such matters - is nothing more for less than a ridiculous "match" with Bombardier Wells "for the world's chamionship." The articles of this preposterous match" have been ratified under the inspices of the "Sportsman" newspaper, and the affair is solounly offered to the sporting public as a serious con est for the world's championship. As a matter of fact, the "contest" is just as genuine as any "contest" can be where one of the two combatants does not enjoy the shadow of a revival in the standards of British boxing. First there has to be considered the perconslity of Wells, who is the best bit of raw material we have had amongst English heavyweights for some considerable time. Wells is a clever young boxer, and a clean boxer. He started on his career in a somewhat shaky fashion against opponents of the class of Sergeant Sunshine, and he was knocked out by Gunner Moir. But his over the Hills and get the Sea early promise of development has materialised, and there is a real prospect now that he will finally emerge into the highest championship class if he is carefully trained and given time to muture.

Nething is to be more regretted than the fact that such a fine young boxer as Wells G should have been enjoied into playing mouse to Johnson's cat. Nothing could be better calculated to knock the character dat of him and retard his advancement. Something like a storm of indignation has been aroused amongst the Press and the public by the announcement of this "contest," and those who are fostering the farce have been driven hard to justify their action. Up to the present their defensive actions can only be compared to the evolutions of a gentleman who is dancing on a quagmire. They are more than a little excited. Grammar has been abandoned and good sense thrown to the winds. The archives of history have been rifled in a search for precedents; and as a result we are seriously told that the Wells-Johnson "encounter" can be no worse than the fiasco in Dublin, when "Tominy" Burns boxed DOME AT -Jem Roche for somethin, like half aminute. The two cases, of course, do not stand on common ground. In the first place, Burns's detract is declared that "Tommy" was never anything better than a good secondrater. A. more important consideration is ral contained in the fact that thousands of Trishmen had an actual and vital faith in the power of their champion to defeat the Canadian. Roche was solidly backed by his compatriots to best Burns; but who would wager a penny on Wella's chance against Johnson? " Albiox in the Daily Graphic.

CREAT BRITAIN AND PORTUGAL

Linkon, July 25.

Replying to the question of a deputy in the Assembly to-day with regard to the reintions between Great Britain and Portugal, the Minister for Foreign Affairs said that the alliance between the two countries had never been on such a firm foundation as it was at the present time, and that each day strengthened the bonds which united them.

In the subsequent discussion on the Conatitution Bill. Senhor Theophilo Braga's amendment was rejected, and Article 2 of the Constitution romains as follows : - "The territory of the Portuguese nation is that existing at the date of the proclamation of the Republic. The nation does not renounce the rights which it possesses or may possess over any other territory."--Rester.

The armoured cruiser Defence, which named for service with the China Squadron, has been detailed as marine ave been well advised to preserve so King and Queen are to voyage to India to open the Delhi Durbar in November next. However, one can only suppose that the The Defence is a sister cruiser to the Minetaur, flagship of the China Squadron.

PORFULAM WATER SUPPLY Letter From Government.

DR FITZWILLIAMS' WARNING.

Mr E. D. C. Wolfe presided over meeting of the Sanitary Board on Tuesday afternoon when there were also present Hon Mr A. W. Brewin, C.M.G., Hon M 558 E. A. Hewett, Dr G. Fitzwilliams, Mr Lau Chu Pak, Mr Ng Hon Tsz, .Dr F. Clark, Medical Officer of Health and Mr W. Bowen-Rowlands, secretary.

A letter from Government relative to the Pokfulam water supply was considered. The letter was as follows With reference to the letter .. from this Department of the 28th April last, I am directed to forward for the information of the Board a copy of a minute by the Principal Civil Medical Officer dated 3rd ult, together with an extract from as exhaustive report from the Government Bacteriologist. A copy of the whole of this report will be forwarded to the Board as soon as copies can be printed. "

Hon, Dr. Jr. M. Atkinson, Principal Civil Medical Officer, in his minute, stated that this was the first time that such thorough examination of the bacteria found in a tropical water had been undertaken. It had been said that b. coli were always present in the water here, but this investigation had disproved that statement. The object of the 408 investigation was to discover what caused the variations in the presence of these organisms. Dr Macfarlane's conclusion! were that the cause of b. coli in the water was foocal contamination, either by man,or animals. With the exception of the pine wood nullah intake, the variations in the number of bacteria were so slight that i was improbable that any marked sewage contamination occurred. He agreed with Dr Macfarlane that it was probable that the fariations in the water of this intake were due to the dimping of night-soil. Storige in a reservoir seemed to be necessary, and it also appeared advisable that the water, which had passed through the filter beds should be allowed to run to waste for the first few days after filter had faithfully " at the bottom. He had had to write longer minutes than the one before the meeting to attach to Government papers. The President—Then I will ask the Secretary to read this as a minute,

Dr. Fitzwilliams said that from the minute of the P. C. M. O. he thought the whole object of the report had gone satray. It was not the object of the report to discover variations in organisms, but to settle the question whether the Pokfulam water was suitable or unsuitable for potable purposes. He did not see that because copies of the report had not been printed, that that was sufficient reason why the original should not have been sent down It was at the Board's instigation that the report had been made and it seemed to him to be poor consolation, if a man was dying of typhoid, to know that on Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays the water Pokiulam was good to drink.

Eon. Mr Hewett naked if the report was going to be rirculated shortly.

The President said that he had no information on the subject at present. understood the report was to be printed.

He mover that the Government be asked to furnish the Board with a copy of the full report as Eggs. Hen-Kai Tan con as possible,

The proposition was carried, being seconded by Dr. Fitzwilliams. Dr. Fitzwilliams' minute was then read by the secretary. It was as follows:-I do not understand why these papers have been forwarded without a copy of the complete report, as any discussion of the mattercontained in it and all the conclusions drawn must be premature. It is interest ing to note, however, that the authorities now admit that the Pokislam water contaminated with foecal matter, and that no less an authority than the P.C.M.O. considers that the night-soil coolies are dumping their bucket loads on the water. shed. This is somewhat startling after the laudation of this watershed in former official papers. As regards the conclusions. which appear to be the only complete section of the report to have been sent, would draw attention to No. 3. beavy; this fact will explain much of the trouble that has recently made government so difficult in the Middle Kingdom and brought the officials and people into such a degree of opposition and antagonism. Analysing the situation more closely, one writer points out that because of the lack of just and stable government in Morocco the commercial interests of other countries are involed and threatened, and consequently the great Powers are bound to interfere, with the result that the end will be that Morocco will lose her independence and will, in all probability, become subservient t An interview with Mr Storry on his huge France or Spain.
